There are many faces to fatherhood and understanding the journey from boyhood, manhood to fatherhood is a complex one. This workshop will give a better understanding of how to assist fathers and male teens to heighten their awareness of the critical role fathers play in their children's lives both negatively and positively. This workshop will also provide the participants with an overview of the Henrico Department of Social Services Fatherhood Initiative Program which gives insight into relationship issues that will help men to help each other in expressing appropriate anger, grief and a range of emotions in a safe and supportive environment.
